PROFF - NATIONAL CONFERENCES | STAY TUNED!

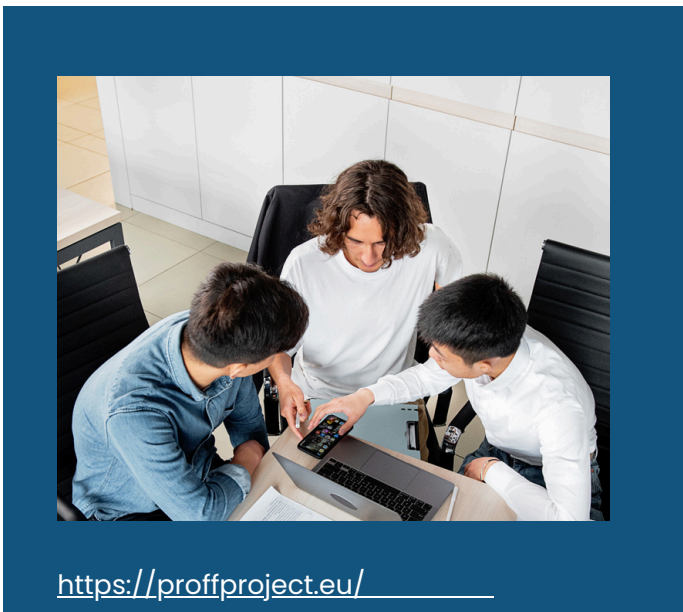

PROFF (Protection against Flash Floods) will be hosting national conferences in Greece, Lithuania, Slovakia and Spain.

These events are designed to share the outcomes of the PROFF project, composed of workshops for Vocation Education and Training on the topic of natural disasters, focusing on the preparation from flash floods.

We are looking forward to bring together a diverse group of VET organizations.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

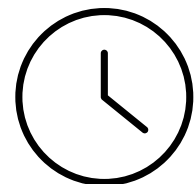

We will give you all kind of details about our innovative strategies to educate on protection against natural disasters like flash floods. This is a great chance for VET organization, teachers and other stakeholders passionate about VET for natural disaster preparation to connect.

STAY UPDATED

Stay tuned on our social media and check our website to keep track on all the updates regarding places, dates and times of the conferences.
